

Serveo strengthens its industrial services with the acquisition of Tecnolimp

- With this transaction, Serveo consolidates its position as a 360° integrated services provider for the industrial sector, across industries such as chemicals, petrochemicals, energy, food and pharmaceuticals.
- Tecnolimp, with more than 25 years of experience in technical cleaning, has a strong presence in Catalonia and a portfolio of recurring clients in some of the country's main industrial hubs.

Madrid, December 29, 2025.

Serveo, a company backed by private equity firm Portobello Capital and a leader in the management of efficient and sustainable services that drive the growth and development of its clients, has acquired Tecnolimp, a company specialized in technical industrial cleaning with more than 25 years of experience and a solid footprint in Catalonia, particularly in the Tarragona industrial hub.

With this transaction, Serveo strengthens its positioning as a 360° integrated services provider for the industrial sector, expanding key technical capabilities in complex industrial environments with high operational demands, such as the chemical, petrochemical, energy, food and pharmaceutical sectors.

Currently, more than 70% of Tecnolimp's activity is concentrated in the chemical and petrochemical sectors, with a strong presence in Catalonia—representing approximately 75% of its revenue—and a portfolio of recurring clients across some of Spain's main industrial hubs, including Tarragona, the Basque Country, the Valencian Community, Andalusia and Aragon.

The integration of Tecnolimp will be carried out progressively within the Serveo Industria structure, including Tecnolimp's 64 employees and technicians, with a continued focus on service continuity, operational safety and value creation for clients.

A further step in the industrial services strategy

Salvador Urquía, CEO of Serveo, highlights that “the addition of Tecnolimp enables Serveo to strengthen its end-to-end value proposition for the industrial sector, representing a further step in our strategy of highly specialized industrial services.”

Tecnolimp has highly specialized equipment focused on hydrodynamic technical cleaning, hydrocutting, hydrodemolition, robotic cleaning and specialized treatments in critical industrial facilities. This expansion of capabilities also facilitates the development of commercial and operational synergies, as well as new cross-selling opportunities among Serveo’s industrial clients, particularly in large chemical, petrochemical and energy complexes.

This transaction adds to Serveo’s recent acquisitions, which have strengthened its portfolio in, among other areas, the industrial sector, including the acquisition of the industrial maintenance business of Global Dominion Access, the acquisition of Grupo Jauregui, and the integration of the maintenance activities of Duro Felguera and Navec.

About Serveo

With more than 30 years of experience, Serveo is a leader in cross-cutting, efficient and sustainable services that drive the growth and development of its clients and society, particularly in the healthcare, industrial, public administration, infrastructure and corporate sectors. The company operates nationwide, enabling the management of high-impact and complex projects.

About Portobello

Founded in 2010, Portobello Capital is one of the leading independent mid-market private equity firms based in Spain, with investments across Southern Europe. The firm manages over €3 billion in assets, has an experienced team of more than forty professionals, and a current portfolio of 25 portfolio companies.

About Tecnolimp

Tecnolimp is a family-owned company with more than 25 years of experience in industrial and environmental technical cleaning services, specializing in high-complexity interventions in strategic industrial sectors.

Communications Department

Cristina Cabrera Angulo

Tel. +34 91 338 83 00

E-mail: comunicacion@serveo.com